

MGPAG

We believe patients are experts too

What is MGPAG?

It is the Manchester Genomic Patient Alliance Group where representatives from Genomic Medicine meet with patients in order to listen and improve our service to you.

What does being a member involve?

You may be asked to participate in activities within the department which could range from giving the patient perspective on:

- developing our service
- research programmes
- patient information leaflets and other resources
- our teaching programmes

How often does the group meet?

Twice a year, but we will also contact you by email throughout the year.

Do I have to take part in all the activities?

No, you can choose the areas you wish to be involved in.

How much time is involved in being a member?

You can decide how much of your time you would like to volunteer.
